

How to Control a Democratic Country

This is a hypothetical way to gain and control a Democratic Government and country without force. It starts with a small group of powerful individuals with a similar philosophy and the desire to control. They organize groups to disrupt normal group activities and to advocate their philosophy. They convince, usually young people, that the government is controlled by rich corrupt men.

Recipe

- *You start with a small group of powerful individuals with similar philosophes and the desire to control.
- *Then organize group individuals and use them to disrupt normal activities and foment discord and distrust of the government. *Take
- advantage of any anti-government group, encourage and support them. *Gain control of
- the education systems, the news media and political systems.
- *Convince the public that guns are responsible for all the killings and must be eliminated. Get laws passed banning guns.
- *Do whatever is necessary to disarm the general population but keep your private group armed and use them to enforce your laws.
- *Create a ruling class, who are dependent on you, of highly educated and powerful who can take advantage of the government's laws, position.
- *Through government programs you control welfare, businesses give mass of the country's population the income and benefits which will enable them to live day by day but never accumulate enough to become truly independent

. *Select a few special universities which will select and train brilliant people to perpetuate your philosophy operate the government and businesses.